B.P.O. Elks Mark 39th Anniversary

The Coleman Elks Lodge marked its 39th anniversary at a social evening in the Elks hall Saturday evening, October 24th, when over 250 members and guests attended.

Chairman of the celebration, FODGER Henry Zak, introduced DODGER George Pender of Fort Macleod, DDERL Helen Giacomuzzi of Blairmore, SARL Anne Horne of Lethbridge, and PPGT Bill Naylor of Lethbridge, who all expressed congratulations to the Coleman Lodge.

The large birthday cake, specially prepared for the occasion, was then cut by Jack Rushton who has the distinction of being the Lodge's oldest member, and also oldest life member. Mr. Rushton has been the Lodge secretary for the past 25 consecutive years.

A social evening was then held which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Three Cougars Shot In Pass Area

Wes Collings, a Blairmore hunter, was unpleasantly surprised by an 80-pound, year and a half old cougar, while he was cleaning an elk he had shot, north of Crow's Nest Mountain.

Wes had just shot his elk and was looking around in some tall grass for a rock to use as a hammer to aid him in cutting open the elk with his hunting knife. He bent down to pick up a rock and when he looked up the cougar was walking through the grass towards him and the elk. He let out a yell and ran around behind the elk where he was able to get his rifle and kill the cougar with one shot.

During the past month or two other cougars were shot in the Crow's Nest Pass district by Simon Sorey of Bellevue, and Vince Bosetti of Hillecrest.

Fran Usciski of Winnipeg, Man., was recently reunited with his brother Stanley in Coleman, after being separated for 30 years.

After the harvest was over Stanley moved West.

Phillips Electric Company Cable Plant Progressing

Heavy bulldozers and other ground moving equipment have begun work during the last week levelling the grounds and preparing the site for Phillips Electric Company cable site at Sentinel, just west of Coleman. The plant is being built on the grounds south of the C.P.R. tracks and between Atlas Lumber Company and the Sentinel C.P.R. station.

The work is being done by Oland Construction (1967) Ltd., and the plant and office space will cover an area of some 55,000 square feet. Total cost of the project was formerly announced as being $1,500,000 which includes $350,000 for construction.

It is reported that approximately 75 men will be employed at the construction, cable producing plant when it is in operation and during the construction period up to 50 men will be employed.

Plans for the 30-acre plant provide for expansion as demands warrant it. Construction period for the plant is expected last for some five months.

Coleman Legion Install Gas Furnace

Al Krywolt, president of Coleman Legion, stated last week that a new gas furnace has been installed in the club rooms as this year's project and funds for this were raised through the bingo and social evenings held during the past year.

The executive are planning on holding social evenings every pay day Saturday night to raise funds for work that is needed on the building.

A general meeting is to be held in the club rooms on the afternoon of November 15th when a new slate of officers for the coming year is to be elected to office. All members are urged to attend.

Yeliga Wins Memorial Trophy

Rudy Yeliga took top honors at the Blairmore trap range this week by defeating runner-up Francis Catonio for the Harry Niemeyer Memorial Trophy.

The two men tied for first place and had to shoot out an extra 25 rounds to see Yeliga win out over his competitor.

During the day's shoot rams were also won by Paul Filewich and Rudy Yeliga, both of Coleman.

Firemen's Ball November 13th

The Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade are completing plans this week for the annual Firemen's Ball to be held in the Elks hall on November 13th.

Proceeds from the dance are used by the firemen for their various community activities. Two gold wrist watch door prizes are to be drawn for at the affair and prizes for spot dances will again be given out.

Goodwin's Orchestra will be in attendance and dancing is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. Tickets may be had from any member of the brigade.

"Warm-Up" Spiel Nov. 13 to 15

The Coleman Curling Club will hold its annual "Warm-Up" Spiel on November 13, 14 and 15. The affair will get underway Friday night with two draws.

The club is inviting 32 entries into the "spiel" from Southern Alberta and British Columbia. Entries may be sent to Fred Macleod not later than November 10.

Ice-maker Tony Gianiorio, who started making ice on October 26 assisted by rink manager George Jenkins, reports that first class ice will be ready for the spiel.

The Coleman Ladies Curling Club will again operate the kitchen for the benefit of curlers. The rink's waiting room has been redecorated for the coming season and new glass has been installed for the spectators.

Rebekahs Official Visits Pass

Sister O. Johnson, vice-president of the Rebekah Assembly, of Calgary, paid her official visit to the Crowview Rebekah Lodge of Blairmore and attended the meeting of District 16.

Included in the 30 present were members from the Coleman Victoria Lodge No. 7, and Sister Betty Welsh of the Alexander Lodge of Pincher Creek. In charge of the meeting was Sister Olive Ruzicka, PNG, and District Deputy President.

During the evening Past Noble Grand Lill Sykes pinned corsages on Vice-president Johnson and DDP Ruzicka.

At the close of the meeting Noble Grand Mrs. E. Dunn called on Vice-president Johnson, and on behalf of the Crowview Lodge, presented her with a gift for which the official ably expressed her appreciation.

Legion Hockey Club Getting Into Shape

Coleman Legion Hockey Club held two meetings recently one at Fernie, Oct. 25 and at Coleman on Oct. 31, with all the executive present. Resignations were accepted from Father Fleming as he is due to leave the district and John Millar, as he was too busy in his personal business. Peter Babiuk, local account ant, accepted the position as secretary-treasurer, with Rudy Yeliga accepting a position as director.

The team has been practising strenuously at Fernie for the past two weeks under the coaching skill of Rudy (Smoky) Smolyk of Fernie.

The President advises that they are waiting for the Coleman Arena to be available so that the team will not have to travel to Fernie for practice, as this is proving very uneconomical.

Appointed President of C.S.A.

Joe Hanrahan, foreman of the Department of Highways in Coleman, was appointed as president of the Branch No. 9, Fort Macleod District Civil Servants' Association. The appointment was made at a branch meeting held in Pincher Creek recently.

Three Men Burned In Flash Fire

Three men were burned, one seriously, in a flash fire Thursday, October 29th, in a compressor station on the Alberta-California natural gas pipeline.

Joseph Pozzi, 40, of Bellevue, was in serious condition Friday morning in Lethbridge Municipal Hospital. Mr. Pozzi was moved by Fantin's ambulance from Michel, B. C., Hospital to Lethbridge on Thursday afternoon.

Norman H. Janzen, 31, of Coleman, was in good condition in Michel Hospital with burns to his hands and face. Searle E. Hornby, 35, also of Coleman, was treated for burns and released.

Cause Undetermined
The three men were operating mechanics for Alberta Natural Gas Company.

Cause of the fire was undetermined but company officials said automatic equipment turned off the natural gas flow when the fire started. There was no interruption in service.

It is believed an engine malfunction released natural gas into the building. There was considerable interior damage.

Alberta Natural Gas operates the pipeline in southeastern British Columbia which links the Alberta Gas Trunk Line in Alberta with Pacific Gas Transmission in Idaho for gas export to California. The compressor station is located on the Alberta - B. C. border near Highway 3, about nine miles west of Coleman.

GOVERNMENTS GET IN THE ROAD

Consumers tend to blame business when prices are high. Usually it isn't the fault of business but of government.

Take gasoline price for an example. Over the past ten years the gasoline makers have improved their product and lowered the price. Imperial Oil says it has not only improved its gasolines, but it is getting 8 per cent less for them than it did ten years ago. This is the free-enterprise system - better value at lower prices. That's what made many companies grow.

But governments get in the road. Over the past ten years provincial gasoline taxes, on the average, have increased 30 per cent. And the federal tax has gone up 27 per cent. When you and I grouse about the price of gasoline, blaming the service station or the oil companies, we're barking up the wrong fountain.

Next time you are het up about the price of driving your jalopy, buy an extra gallon and tour around to the home of your local MLA or MP. Take your thirty cents worth out on the MLA and your 27 cents-worth out on the MP. Their propensity for dispensing your money so lavishly causes the high price of driving.

And while you're at it, remember that in almost everything you buy, the tax load is responsible for a lot of the price. Especially if you buy smokes or a drink. And the cost of living sometimes gets so disturbing it drives a man to drink. In this vicious circle, you are caught. Only one person can help you get free of it - your representative in government. Get to him and urge him to close that purse for a while.

OF MANY THINGS

WAVING AT THE TRAIN

It happened when our streamlined train was passing through Northern Ontario. For some reason it stopped at a lonely spot where nothing could be seen but a rugged landscape of rocks and trees, plus a bleak, gray little house.

Suddenly two young girls came running full tilt down the path from the house. One was very small and bright and she kept waving at our windows. The second girl was taller, quite skinny, and she did not wave. She stood quietly, staring.

Sitting in the chair next to me was a dignified, gray-haired businessman, of obvious substance. As the train began to pull away, he leaned forward and began to wave vigorously. He kept on waving for the longest time.

Then he turned to me, looking a little sheepish and apologetic. "I wanted to get that tall one to wave," he said. "But she didn't. She looked mighty sad.

I think perhaps he had been raised in some remote and lonely spot himself, and somehow won his way to success and travel.

Let us hope that the tall young girl is a successful woman now, making a career for herself in whatever kind of place she wishes to live. Thank the good Lord, ours is the kind of country where many youngsters, raised in isolation, can still make good in the big cities. I believe the president of the railroad we were travelling on was once a boy in a small Manitoba town called Plum Coulee. Come to think of it, he could well have been the distinguished-looking gent who sat in the chair next to mine and waved so hard.

Rodger Forsyth, eleven-year-old Muscular Dystrophy victim, works at a handloom while he convalesces from a leg operation. Rodger is a good scholar, who until recently has never missed a day at school. He lives with his brothers and sisters in Timmins, Ont.

Muscular Dystrophy Campaign From Nov. 8 to 14

Eleven years have passed since Rodger Forsyth's mother proudly brought him home from the maternity ward. He was the fifth child in the Forsyth family. They live up in the gold-mining country of Timmins, Ont., where Mr. Forsyth works in the Hollinger Mine. All the Forsyth children were happy and healthy and there was no reason to suppose that Rodger would not enjoy the same health as his brothers and sisters.

But when Rodger was six years old, fate dropped a bombshell into the family circle—Rodger was diagnosed as having muscular dystrophy.

Rodger now spends his waking hours in a wheel chair. He has been down in Toronto for some time and has had a leg operation. He does not get around so well since the operation but is hoping to recover from it.

He is a boy who never missed a day at school, who does well academically, and is a great reader. Ever since he can remember, he spent the summers at Ivanhoe Park and Kettle Lake up in the north country, camping and fishing. Rodger is looking forward to more summers in the north when he returns from Toronto. But the family know it will be increasingly difficult for him to take part in these summer expeditions.

Perhaps the Forsyths could have been saved from a second blow if Rodger's condition had been diagnosed within the first year or two of life, but three years after Rodger's birth they had another boy, Randy.

Within a couple of years it became tragically apparent that Randy, too, had Muscular Dystrophy.

Mrs. Forsyth knows only too well what ordeals lie ahead for Randy, but there is someone else who knows even better what it feels like to be slowly crippled by a relentless disease that the best brains in medical science are powerless to halt.

This knowledge belongs to his brother Rodger.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada is working to find a cure for this disease. This year its annual campaign will take place November 8 to 14. —Help your local Volunteer Fire Brigade to put this campaign over the top.

General Employment Picture Is Encouraging

Unemployment in the Blairmore local office area during the month of September, 1964, indicated a 50 per cent decline in the number of unemployed persons compared to the same period in 1963, according to Mr. Terry Robertson, manager of the National Employment Service office at Blairmore. A report by the bureau of statistics has placed the latest unemployment rate at 3.1 per cent, of the national labor force, lowest mid-September figure since the boom year of 1956.

A most welcome scene in the area is the activity at the construction site of the new Phillips Electric plant west of Coleman. There has been a tremendous interest shown in the project and residents are giving their wholehearted support to the venture.

The initial contract for construction of buildings to provide approximately 6,000 square feet of plant and office space has been awarded to Oland Construction (1959) Ltd.

Operating coal mines in the district have been very busy resulting in no unemployed mine workers in the area.

The month of September resulted in very little loss of time to workers in the lumber industry despite a shortage of qualified workers. Mill operators report lumber sales to be good.

A demand for workers in the retail trade has been limited. Activity in the service field has been slow due to a drop in the local tourist trade.

Generally speaking, Mr. Robertson stated the general employment picture appeared encouraging.

Mouth and Foot Painted Cards Popular in Canada

Greeting cards selected from over 500 artists deprived of the use of their hands will be sent out by Canadians this Holiday Season.

These remarkable artists, who have taught themselves to work with their mouth and feet, belong to an equally remarkable organization, the Association of Mouth and Foot Painting Artists, which gives them an opportunity, through the world-wide sale of reproductions, to earn a decent living in their chosen profession despite their terrifying handicap.

Some 15 nations are represented in this international body by their outstanding handicapped artists,—among them Canada, through Earl Bailey of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, whose name and fame has become an inspiration to millions of similarly afflicted people everywhere. Earl Bailey, who paints with his mouth because a childhood bout with polio crippled his arms and legs, has had widely acclaimed exhibitions of his work in Montreal, Toronto, Halifax, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Rochester and Bermuda. Some of his paintings are on permanent public display in the National Gallery in Ottawa as well as in Halifax, New York and Warm Springs, Georgia.

A highlight in Earl Bailey's career was his presentation to the Queen, who also owns one of his finest pictures. Among other private collectors who acquired originals by Earl Bailey are President Roosevelt, Prime Ministers Mackenzie King and Diefenbaker, and Gov.-General Vincent Massey.

But Earl Bailey is not the only Canadian artist who benefits from the world-wide activities of the Association. Two promising young Canadians have been awarded scholarships that will enable them to perfect their painting techniques and, it is hoped, eventually become full members. They are Donna Graham of Edmonton, a quadriplegic, who paints with her mouth in a reclining position with easel and palette overhead, and 25-year-old Henry Louis Baril, also a polio victim from Edmonton, a mouth painter of unusual talent.

Among the paintings by Earl Bailey and his handicapped colleagues throughout the world, a few of the best have been selected and reproduced for sale as greeting cards. The proceeds after deduction of printing and distributing costs, administrative expenses and taxes, as always, go to the handicapped artists who are the sole owners of the Association.

The Association of Mouth and Foot Painting Artists is a business enterprise. It provides a livelihood for an international group of people who refuse to accept defeat from a cruel fate, and who, through faith, talent and sheer willpower, have succeeded in building highly useful and satisfying lives for themselves.

CALGARY POWER LTD.

proudly presents

David Kilford

of Sherwood Park

AN ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

It was early Spring - pussywillow time - and David and his three friends wanted to surprise their mothers with bouquets of these early spring blooms.

Suddenly there was a cry for help! One of the children, Gloria Summers, had slipped into the icy water of a partly frozen lagoon. Her brother Patrick jumped in but was unable to reach his sister.

Quickly, 10-year old David lay down on the ice, while a courageous friend Jonathon Rogers grabbed his ankles. Thanks to this "human chain", David was able to reach and rescue his two friends.

We congratulate David Kilford, who is also an active cub member. We also congratulate Jonathon Rogers for his part in the heroic rescue, and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to T. W. Pue, Editor of the Edmonton Sun, and to David's nominator Mrs. John Ball of Sherwood Park.

Some documentary highlights for 1964-65 reveal, among others, the color subject Painting a Province, New Brunswick, where some famous artists set the pattern for many able newcomers.

Music From Montreal presents their famed Bach Choir in its Christmas Oratorio, with scenes on staff and off.

Necessarily in color, The Enduring Wilderness gives a superb view of our national parks from British Columbia to Newfoundland.

Montreal - Manicouagan, in a remote region of Quebec, portrays one of the world's great hydro dams in construction, imposing evidence of the new spirit which animates this old province.

Thirty Minutes, Mr. Plummer, is a behind-the-scenes view of the Stratford Festival, that few in the audience ever see.

Jamie, Story of a Sibling, is that of a family and the special problem of being a middle child.

For Lewis Mumford, the city and city dwellers have been a life-long study. His book "The City in History" is the Bible of all those who have reason to examine the city and its problems. Now, in a series of six half-hour films, Lewis Mumford shows on the screen the glories and the deficiencies of the world's great cities.

In many ways, inner squalor and urban sprawl have destroyed their integrity.

The French-Speaking World is another series of six films showing the life of French-speaking people in Canada, Asia, Africa and in France itself; in all, the winds of change are blowing.

Manicouagan, The Hour of Independence, France Revisited, are of special interest in a study of this dynamic spirit which instills an old, civilized society.

The Little Acres illustrates why the ancient habitant way of life is dead or rapidly dying. The impact of this turbulent change, from static past to dynamic future is affecting all our lives as it instills its impulse into Canadian affairs and outlook.

Canada, as a British-American backwater seems due at last for vigorous change — a stimulating prospect.

November Is Apple Month

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has just proclaimed "November is Apple Month".

Arthur Kemp of Strathcona Orchards, Burlington, Ont. representing the Canadian Apple Industry, received the official proclamation and presented Mr. Pearson with a basket of the famous Canadian McIntosh apples.

If there is one food that is distinctly Canadian it must be the McIntosh apple. Historically a part of Canada since 1796, it is said John McIntosh found and recognized a superior seedling left on a farm in Dundela, Ont., by French settlers.

The McIntosh Red is noted for succulent flavor & distinct aroma. The tree is decidedly harder than most and has sired a number of other favorites including Cortland, Melba and Spartan.

Canada is world famous for its apples, exporting to some 34 countries. Canadians don't recognize the superiority of their own produce. Fewer apples are consumed per capita in Canada than in many countries of the world.

To encourage greater consumption of apples, the Canada Department of Agriculture and the Apple Industry are distributing newsworthy and feature stories, photos and recipes to all media. The trade is backing with advertising and promotion.

Post Office To Issue New 8-cent Stamp

The first 8 cent stamp produced by the Canada Post Office since 1946 will be issued on November 18th according to an announcement made today by the Hon. John R. Nicholson, Postmaster General.

The new stamp is intended to replace a former 7 cent stamp made obsolete by a recent increase in air mail rates to the United States. In addition to facilitating prepayment of air mail letters, the stamp will be used for parcel post and for first class letters weighing between one and two ounces for delivery within Canada.

The Postmaster General said the design of the stamp is a re-working of the 7 cent regular issue released on March 11, 1964. The only change is in the numeral seven which has been replaced by an eight. The central feature of the design is a modern inter-city jet aircraft taking off from a Canadian terminal.

Since the air mail rate change went into effect on July 15th, the Post Office Department has provided an overprinted stamp with the seven defaced and an eight printed above it. Supplies of this stamp will soon be exhausted and the new eight cent issue will take its place.

UNICEF Is Important

Zanzibar, a new African republic and Zorra, a Canadian town differ in climate, resources and job opportunities. In common both have concern for the sturdy health and basic education of growing children. Both realize that youngsters should be so trained that they can stand on their own feet and contribute to the world's quota of productive citizens.

It is in this field that UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) actively participates in 116 countries of the world. Funds donated by governments, private individuals and youngsters (33 million annually) go to International UNICEF. A rotating committee of 30 chosen from the 116 participating countries allocate funds for disease control, health units and schools.

On Hallowe'en Canadian youngsters enjoy the traditional fun of dressing up, visiting friends and neighbors, collecting the usual treats. But on this night they also carry with them the UNICEF Hallowe'en collection boxes for coins donated to UNICEF.

This year half a million Canadian children will provide half a million dollars to help fight hunger, disease and ignorance among the world's less fortunate children. It is a Crusade for Children by Children.

UNICEF is important — Important to both the giver and the receiver.

Says British girls sexiest, but not aware of it

LONDON (Reuters) — British girls are the sexiest in the world but they are not as sex-preoccupied as American girls, Helen Gurley Brown said recently.

The American author of Sex and the Single Girl is in Britain to launch the book, published in North America two years ago.

Her advice to British girls: "Stay as sexy as you are. You may not be aware of your charm or as pre-occupied by sex as your American counterparts, but this natural, unadorned attitude makes you just about the sexiest girls in the world."

She said British girls are "less guilt-ridden about sex and have fewer inhibitions as a result."

"Not that they are promiscuous. I would never admire or recommend that."

"They are just more natural about the whole thing."

"And their voices — I can't imagine a more sexy accent."

If we make the best of little opportunities we find ourselves more able to accept larger ones.

Questions, Answers On Unemployment

Q—On September 15 my son and I started hauling wood for another man at $7 a day, using our own horse. We have two miles to walk before we reach the place where we're working, and we have to provide our own board. Can we leave this employment without being disqualified for six weeks? We have enough stamps to qualify for unemployment insurance benefit.

A—It is not uncommon for workers to walk a distance of two miles daily to and from work, particularly in rural areas. Claimants are generally not justified for this reason and are, therefore, subject to disqualification from the receipt of benefit for a period not exceeding six weeks.

Q—Between now and early December I will have to hire a girl as a cook and baby sitter. Do I have to give her unemployment insurance stamp? What value of stamps will I have to use if I pay her $50 a month?

A—Persons employed in domestic service in private homes are not insurable under the Act. No contributions are, therefore, payable on behalf of this person as she is employed as a cook and baby sitter in a private home.

Q—Can I qualify for unemployment insurance benefit, having 28 weekly contributions instead of the 30 required, seeing that I worked for six weeks in Massena, N. Y., and have contributed to the New York State unemployment insurance scheme?

A—The 30 contributions in question must have been made under the Canadian Unemployment Insurance Act, in the 104 weeks immediately preceding your claim. Contributions made under the New York State Unemployment Insurance Act do not count for this purpose.

However, the time you were employed in Massena can entitle you to an extension of the period of 104 weeks. Thus, if you produce evidence that you were employed six weeks in Massena, you can go back to 110 weeks prior to your claim to reach the 30 contributions required.

Q—Last year I had used up all my benefits by the end of January. This year since March 3 I paid contributions for 23 weeks. How much can I get in seasonal benefits during the coming winter?

A—You have acquired at least 15 contributions since March 24, 1963, and can, therefore, establish a claim to seasonal benefit this winter. The duration of your entitlement will be determined on the basis of five weeks of benefit for every six weeks of contributions paid on your behalf since March 24, 1963. The rate of benefit which may then be paid to you will be based on the average of the contributions you have acquired since that same date.

Q—Is a false statement made for the purpose of obtaining insurance benefits a criminal offence?

A—False statements, if made in good faith due to an excusable misunderstanding or through honest error are not offences under the Unemployment Insurance Act. However, when proof exists that a claimant made a statement that he knew to be false, then an offence has been committed and prosecution may be considered. An offence under the Unemployment Insurance Act or Regulations is recognized as a Criminal Offence.

Q—Some time ago I was prosecuted by the Unemployment Insurance Commission for six offences of failing to report earnings while drawing benefits. I was fined $150 and costs. A few days ago I read of a similar case involving ten offenders, but a fine of only $100 was imposed. Is this fair?

A—Penalties imposed by magistrates are the sole responsibility of the courts. It is the function of a court to determine a sentence after considering all the circumstances.

Integrity, responsibility, accuracy and leadership are what makes a newspaper a vital community force, according to a committee of the Associated Press Managing Editors which undertook a long-term study to determine criteria for a good newspaper.

VIEWING HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE COMING WEEK

NOV. 7th - 13th

This week's CBC-TV schedule runs the gamut from Hank Snow to Greek tragedy — with memorial services, professional sports and School Telecasts in between.

Country and western music takes the spotlight on the Show of the Week, Monday, November 9th at 8:00. "The Hank Snow Country Special" stars Hank Snow, Wilf Carter, Charlie Chamberlain, Gordie Tapp, the Rainbow Ranch Boys and six of Canada's top fiddlers.

The show should be a real treat for country music fans, as it includes some of the real all-time favorites like "I'm Moving On", "I Don't Hurt Any More", "The Wreck of the Old 97" and "The Goldrush is Over".

On Sunday, November 8th at 10 This Hour Has Seven Days will be pre-empted, on this occasion only, for "Antigone", a Greek tragedy by Sophocles in a modern version by Christopher Logue. Roberta Maxwell stars as Antigone, young daughter of Oedipus, who dares to disobey a decree by her uncle Creon, ruler of Thebes.

Creon's decree calls for the execution of anyone attempting to bury the body of Antigone's brother, Polyneikes, who was killed in a civil war which divided the city.

Also featured in the cast are Joseph Wiseman as Creon, Patricia Collins as Ismene, George Golden as Haemon, Patrick Boxill as the Sentry, William Needles as First Steward and Paul Harding as First Guard.

Wednesday, November 11th, is Remembrance Day. In memory of those who gave their lives for our country, CBC-TV will telecast the annual Remembrance Day ceremony from the National War Memorial in Ottawa. In attendance at the wreath-laying will be a mother of a Silver Cross winner; His Excellency, Gov-General Vanier, and prominent representatives of the government and the armed services. The half hour telecast begins Wednesday morning at 10:45.

This week's sports calendar is headed by a crucial semi-final football game in the Eastern Division of the Canadian Football League.

In a sudden-death battle in Ottawa's Lansdowne Park, the Montreal Alouettes meet the home town Ottawa Rough Riders. The winner gets to meet the Hamilton Tiger Cats for the right to represent the East in the Grey Cup game. The loser gets a case of moth balls for use in packing up their uniforms for another year.

Kick-off time on Saturday, November 7th is 12 noon in Manitoba and Saskatchewan; 11 a.m. in sunny Alberta.

Other sporting attractions are:

(1) The NHL scrap between the

New York Rangers and the Toronto Maple Leafs, November 7th at 7:30 in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, 6:30 in Alberta, and (2) the NFL game between the Detroit Lions and the Green Bay Packers, Sunday, November 8th at 1 p.m. in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and 12 noon in Alberta.

Each week-day morning at 10 stations throughout the prairies carry entertaining and educational school telecasts. There's one in particular this week which may be of interest to everyone.

Entitled "This Was a Man", it examines the life of William Shakespeare, the man, the playwright and poet. It shows Shakespeare's closeness to nature and how he gave universal interest to local times in Tudor England.

"This Was a Man" will be seen Tuesday, November 10th at 10:00 a.m. on the Canadian School Telecast.

N.E.S. Official Visits Pass

Although unemployment across the prairie region is at the lowest in Canada at 1.6 per cent of the labor force, the National Employment Service officials have pointed out that now is the time for employers and householders alike to consider providing a winter job if they can do so.

This statement was made in Blairmore Thursday by K. C. MacLean of Winnipeg, Man., assistant regional director of the U.I.C. in the prairies region. He visited the NES offices in Blairmore, noting that the winter season was an ideal time for carrying out renovation and repair projects, and urging full support of the forthcoming Winter Employment Campaign.

Mr. MacLean also referred to the Municipal Winter Works incentive program, under which the Federal government pays half of the direct labor costs, and the Winter House Building Incentive program, through which an incentive payment of $500 will be provided if certain conditions are met.

The Municipal Winter Works Incentive program covers the period from November 1, 1964, to April 30, 1965, while in the case of the Winter House Building program, the major part of the construction is to be completed during the period November 15, 1964, to March 31, 1965, both dates inclusive.

Describing manpower as the nation's number one asset, the UIC official drew attention to importance of the function of the National Employment Service office in the selection and referral of manpower and urged full use of the broad services of the NES by employer and applicant alike.

Stressing "the importance of education and training in today's highly mechanized society", Mr. MacLean urged parents to encourage young people to complete their education and training.

"There is little or no place today for the school drop-out," he cautioned.

CALGARY POWER LTD.

proudly presents

Philip Moncrieff

of Cayley

AN ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Philip won his award for his many years of quiet courage. His young brother Larry is a cripple, needing constant care and attention. For over ten years, Philip, now fifteen years old, has put Larry's interests ahead of his own. He is Larry's constant companion and helper, showing commendable patience and understanding. For example, each day he helps Larry to dress, walks with him to and from school, and takes the time to be sure that Larry is warmly dressed for the walk home, that his coat is buttoned, his overshoes done up.

Philip's own interests, his own friends, his own fun take second place - he puts Larry first.

We congratulate Philip, and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to R. Hawk, Editor of the Nanton News, and to Philip's nominator, Mrs. G. J. McPheeters of Cayley.
